Qube Energy Pty Ltd awarded the Shell Australia Provision of Integrated Supply Chain Services contract

After an extensive tendering process, Qube Holdings is excited to announce that Qube Energy Pty Ltd has been awarded the Shell Australia Provision of Integrated Supply Chain Services contract. This contract will include service provision for the Prelude FLNG facility, QGC and QCLNG operations including supply base, port and logistics services in Queensland, the Northern Territory and Western Australia for a period of five years.

Qube's diversified experience in complete supply chain services in the oil and gas market and logistics services, ensured Qube was best placed to deliver Shell true operational integration and safety standards that matched Shell's high standards.

An important aspect of this contract is the engagement of local content, and as such, Qube will target local employment to fit Qube's strategic policy to minimise transient workforces. In addition, our partnership with the Clontarf Foundation will focus on developing indigenous employment throughout Queensland, the Northern Territory and Western Australia.

Qube Energy Director Michael Sousa said. "Qube Energy is the largest integrated oil and gas service provider in Australia, linking all modes of supply chain logistics. Our technology will allow Shell complete visibility of their supply chain. We look forward to a partnership that delivers Shell supply chain efficiencies in a Zero Harm working environment."
